River City, Iowa is upset by a fast-talking salesman, Harold Hill, who points out the serious trouble River City is in by the presence of a pool table in the town. Professor Hill's remedy for the situation is a boy's band. In an attempt to persuade Marian, the music teacher and librarian, to endorse his band, Prof. Hill finds himself falling in love and a step away from the tar and feathers of the townspeople who are anxious to hear the "Minuet in G" coming from the horns of the uninstructed band.

Harold "sells" Mrs. Paroo on the idea that her son was born to play the cornet.

The bickering school board discovers that they can make beautiful music together.

I don't believe I caught your name. . . .

The quartet sings "Lida Rose" along with Marian's "Will I Ever Tell You?"

Eulalie adds a bit of humor to the 4th of July celebration with her rendition of "Columbia the Gem of the Ocean."

Everyone is surprised when Winthrop, who rarely talks, sings about the "Wells Fargo Wagon"

"Goodnight My Someone, goodnight my love . . ."

One Grecian urn.

Marian has little success in keeping the library quiet while Harold sings "Marian the Librarian".

Saxons

Coach Carlson gives some advice and encouragement to two players as Coach Strong watches the other Saxons out on the field.

New Head Coach Bob Carlson had a big rebuilding job this season after losing 22 seniors from the 1965 Varsity Squad.

This year's team was inexperienced but with team work, good coaching, and practice combined, they showed improvement in the latter part of the season.

Coach VanderVeen instructs players in a close game.

The Saxons, although lacking in experience, turned in a fine year of basketball finally holding down fourth place in the conference with an all-season record of 8 wins and nine losses. The team combined hustle along with determination and could never be ruled out of any game.
